Statement of Clarification and Responsibility

Due to the many and occasional discrepancies concerning the correctness and descriptions and definitions of "Numbers Matching", "Period Correct", and "Date Correct" and other terminology used to describe many vehicles in a collector car auction, we find it necessary and mandatory that both sellers and buyers agree to the following;

Please acknowledge that you have read and understand the SELLER and BUYER responsibilities by signing below.

A SELLER of an automobile at a collector car auction is solely responsible for the accuracy represented by his/her statement concerning their automobile being offered to the public. The seller recognizes the fact that he/she is selling directly to the buyer and is therefore responsible for all claims, representations, and accuracy of all statements offered.

The BUYER of an automobile at a collector car auction is solely responsible for determining the accuracy, correctness, and condition of a vehicle prior to bidding and or subsequent purchase. The buyer further understands that all information concerning the automobile has been provided by the seller and therefore the buyer must rely on his/her own diligence to determine its accuracy.

At the moment of being sold the ownership transfers immediately from seller to buyer and the buyer is responsible from that time for that vehicle. Additionally, the buyer is responsible for completing the transaction in a timely manner.
